NEW GOLF TRAINING DEVICE IMPROVES SWING, FORM AND SCORE

The Power Wrist helps golfers lower scores by 2 to 10 strokes by keeping the clubface square for a more powerful and accurate swing.

St. Clair Shores, MI, April 15--Most golfers, no matter what their experience or handicap, are faced with one particular obstacle at least to some degree....the slice. This is the #1 problem for over 80% of golfers throughout the world. The difficulty occurs during the swing, when the golfer's hands and wrists move out of proper alignment. Those slight little movements can make a big difference in overall score. After just a few minutes of practice with the Power Wrist, you can kiss your slice goodbye.

"The Power Wrist golf training device is one of the most useful products I have run across in my thirty years of teaching. I highly recommend it for anyone who is interested in improving the overall consistency of their game," says PGA Pro golf instructor Hank Johnson.

Johnson, voted one of Golf Magazine's top 100 teachers, and who has conducted over a thousand golf clinics and schools and given more than 10,000 golf lessons throughout his career also states, "The fundamental goal of effective golf practice is to repeat the desired movements correctly over and over, until they become automatic." That's precisely what the Power Wrist helps golfers achieve when used on a regular basis.

"We wanted to develop a product that would help golfers at any level keep their wrists, hands and arms in proper position, keeping the clubface square. The rotation of the lead forearm is the main control of the golf swing. If you rotate your forearm correctly, you won't slice the ball. This can make a huge difference in power--without sacrificing accuracy," says Gary Goins, inventor of the Power Wrist. "The Power Wrist teaches golfers how to maintain proper positioning during the entire swing, developing 'muscle memory' for lasting improvement."

The Power Wrist is made from a patented blend of materials, designed to maintain flexibility and durability. "Its unique pivoting hinge enables the golfer to 'feel' the perfect swing. The great thing about the Power Wrist is that it's the only golf training aid on the market that helps control full swing, chipping, short shots and putting without having to change anything," says Goins. "We believe so strongly in our product that if you're not completely satisfied, we'll buy it back."

The Power Wrist is available in golf pro shops nationwide, or can be ordered online at <http://www.powerwrist.com>.
